The Ghost

It was a cold, dark night and there was a strong wind blowing. Mike just came home from work. He had a tiring day. The only thing he had on mind was just sleep. He was ready to go to bed but suddenly he heard his front door opening and something breaking. He lives alone. When he opened the door of his bedroom the electricity went out. Right after that he heard someone singing from downstairs. He grabbed the first thing he saw and started walking down the stairs. When he turned around he saw some woman staring at him. She had a long white dress but he couldn't see the face of the woman because of her long hair that were in her face. They were just staring at each other. After a minute the lights turned on and the woman disappeared. After this incident Mike moved out and lived in his parents house. He never walked passed that house again.
